

Seminar: Introduction to Holacracy™

April 27th — 29th, 2007

NEVER BEFORE IN HUMAN HISTORY HAVE WE FACED A WORLD OF SO MUCH COMPLEXITY AND SO MANY CHALLENGES, ALL UNFOLDING AT A DIZZYING PACE.

Even our most progressive approaches to human organization are quickly becoming obsolete – insufficient for navigating the challenges and harnessing the opportunities now in front of us. In recent years we've seen the emergence of dozens of new organizational ideas and techniques – new management fads – many helpful, some truly powerful, though few capable of sustaining a fundamental shift in the core dynamics of modern organization and culture.

What if we questioned all of our most basic assumptions and sought to uncover a more natural way of organizing ourselves?

Is there an entirely new tier of systemic health and performance available to us? If we rewrote the most basic rules of human engagement, could we make a quantum leap in organizational design, as fundamental as the leap from feudal systems of old to the democracies of today? These questions are being asked by a growing number of organizational pioneers, and a powerful answer is now emerging. Welcome to Holacracy, a complete system for organizational governance and culture at the leading edge.

About the Seminar

This seminar introduces the basic structure and governance practices of Holacracy, and provides an overview of the core principles and understanding behind them. Attendees will witness Holacracy in action on a real team, and practice hands-on in a simulated organization. Additional time is reserved for Q&A and debrief with experienced Holacracy practitioners, as well as for networking with trainers and fellow participants.
